

THE DOUBLE SCAN — RETURNS

Two scans. Two looks. One standard. Nothing goes back on the shelf until it's clean and ready.

SCAN, LOOK. SCAN, LOOK.

The return isn't complete until you've looked.
Returning gear matters as much as issuing it.

- 1

Clear the screen

Fresh screen, fresh transaction. It must read “No Hirer or Item to Display” before you start. Never start a return on top of another.
- 2

Press Return → Return in bulk

No hirer needed. When it asks “return in bulk, on behalf of Hirers?” — press Return in bulk, then start scanning items in.
- STEP 3 — THE DOUBLE SCAN

Per item: scan, look. Scan, look.

Same item — scanned twice

Still correct · count still right

Transaction Condition stays Normal — damage is flagged separately (Out of Service). Never scan two items back to back. One item, full double scan, then move on.
- 4

Receiving check

Damage · clean · in date · complete (chargers, cases, certs). Gas monitors & radios flat? On charge. Damaged or out of date → Out of Service area, never the shelf.
- 5

Count check → Finish

Physical items must match the number on Finish. Unsure on any item? Re-scan — don't guess. Count confirmed, press Finish.
- 6

Shelf rule

Nothing on the shelf unless it's clean, compliant, in date and undamaged. Ampol: into the Aisle Stock Location bin first, then stocktake to the shelf.

- STORE & SECURITY

- Front door stays closed — no one enters unattended
  - Gear is handed to the stores team, never placed back unsupervised
  - Reprint worn barcodes; clear sticker over every one
- NOT ON SYSTEM / PENDING

- Don't shelf or bin it — into the Inspection Departed bin
  - Gas monitors & radios: check the register, confirm the serial, no double-up barcodes
  - Register updated? Email Andrew Fisher — don't change the format
