THE POSITION. One page, one honest answer: is the Ampol rigging and lifting fleet on the register and accounted for? 905 items, every one barcoded, split 723 rigging & lifting and 182 height safety / rescue. Right now 328 are on hire (36%) across 19 companies, and 577 are in the store. The test columns are the work in progress: 0 of 905 items have test details entered so far - said plainly on page 4, blanks shown as dashes, nothing invented.

Share of the fleet out on hire right now

- ✓ Fleet located 100/100
every one of the 905 register items carries a live status - 328 on hire, 577 in the store
- ✓ Test records filled in 0/100
0 of 905 items have test details entered - the register is stood up, the fill-in is under way

Test status - what the register holds today, no varnish

Straight up: the register is stood up and complete on identity - every item barcoded, categorised and located - and the test details are being filled in. 0 of 905 items have any test detail entered and 0 carry test dates so far. That is the truth of it, and it is exactly what this page tracks refresh over refresh. 378 items already carry a serial number from the standing-up work.

Test Status values on the register

TEST STATUS (AS RECORDED)	ITEMS
(blank - awaiting fill-in)	905

No Next Test Due dates are recorded in the register yet - the moment they are entered, this page sorts them soonest first automatically. Until then the cells print as dashes, never estimates.

Fill-in progress by column — how far each test column has got

Last Test Date		0 of 905
Next Test Due		0 of 905
Test Status		0 of 905
Test Tag Colour		0 of 905
Tested By		0 of 905
Certificate No		0 of 905

A dash anywhere on this page means the register cell is blank - the test details for that item are still to be entered. Nothing is assumed, estimated or copied in from anywhere else.

How the rigging fleet is run

STOOD UP, THEN FILLED IN

The register was built identity-first: every item barcoded, categorised and locatable on day one. Test details are being entered now - progress is printed, page 4, every run.

NO INVENTED TEST DATA

A blank test cell prints as a dash, full stop. No status is assumed, no date estimated - rigging gear is Life Saving Rule 5 territory (SEQ-GL-009) and the record has to be real.

LONGEST HELD, FIRST CHASED

On-hire gear is worked oldest first, by company and hirer, off the workbook's own on-hire dates - the conversation is always a name and a barcode, never a guess.

ONE REGISTER, ONE TRUTH

Master and locate sheets travel in the same workbook - identity and whereabouts can never drift apart unnoticed, and this report reads both every run.
